4 Mistakes Preventing You From Consistent Gains

MISTAKES

You Think Of MONEY FIRST!

A man in a dark suit and light blue shirt is sitting at a desk, leaning forward with his mouth wide open in a shout or yell. His fists are clenched on the desk. A laptop and a mouse are visible on the desk in front of him. The background is a bright, out-of-focus office setting.

Emotional Trades

Bad Decisions

Have you ever said:

1. I know it's down now, but Hope come back.
2. It's already down 20%, but Despair I'll hold onto it now.
3. I have a profit, but if I close now it will probably keep going up.
Greed
4. I know I lost more than Fear but if I close now it will probably go up tomorrow.
5. The last time I sold Frustration it went up. So I'm not selling this one yet.

“Homework means committing one hour per week per stock. Much less than that, and you might as well be gambling.”

A man with a mustache, wearing a dark winter coat with a fur-lined hood and a patterned knit hat, is shown from the chest up. He has his hands clasped in front of him and a slightly open mouth, appearing to be in the middle of a shiver or breathless. He is surrounded by a heavy, dense snowfall that fills the entire background, creating a sense of being in a blizzard. The lighting is soft and diffused, typical of an overcast winter day.

to consistent success.

Retired in 2005

Financial Crisis hit in late 2007

"We had used professional advisors for direct shares and a few managed funds to build up our retirement portfolio and they all told us to ride it out.

By mid-2008 our portfolio had lost 40%. Our retirement plans were in ruins - we were in total despair and it looked like I would have to get a job."

- Robert M.

Before taking that drastic step, I started doing my own research to try and recoup my losses, spending hours each day in front of the computer, reading articles, listening to so called experts. Subconsciously I was only "hearing" what I wanted to hear!

I was now beyond despair, it all looked too hard and getting back onto the job treadmill seemed inevitable.

In March 2009, using VV's unique market timing system together with its fundamental & technical analysis stock picking techniques, I went into the market and by the end of the year, using these tools I had recouped all my GFC losses.

...nowadays I spend minutes a day to manage my portfolio giving me the money and time to do the things that are really important to me.

- Robert M.

Not Satisfied With Results

A person is shown from the chest up, buried in a sea of crumpled white paper. Only their head and arms are visible. They are holding a white rectangular sign with the word "HELP" written in black, handwritten capital letters. The person is wearing a light-colored, long-sleeved button-down shirt. The background is a solid white color.
